Dear Newsletter Recipient:

This letter is to inform you of our decision to suspend distribution of our newsletter of 40 years.

In keeping up with the times, we are now using social media to communicate our message and information concerning new and exciting titles and events. If you would like to be included in our e-mail data base for notification of specific events and author signings etc., please send your e-mail address to the following: ed-dept@milligannews.com

We frequently update our website and facebook page with current titles and information. Our facebook page has thought provoking quotes, featured titles and interesting book trailers.

Please bookmark: milligannews.com and friend us on facebook, so you can easily click on to our site and see all the new titles as they become available. We can always use another friend on our facebook page.

Some reasons to continue using Milligan News as your trade book resource:

S-t-r-e-t-c-h your budget dollars: We offer a generous discount off the cover price. No minimum purchase required. Teachers, librarians and administrators are entitled to purchase personal books at a 30% discount. Please call, (800) 873-2387, or check out our website to establish our terms.

One stop purchasing experience: We represent over 100 publishers, which lets you purchase all your books with one vendor, on one purchase order and invoice. We special order titles for you when needed.

We are a local Bay Area business: With a warehouse/showroom where you're invited to select and buy off shelf, from the thousands of titles on hand. We also accept purchase orders, and purchases from our website; www.milligannews.com.

You're supporting your local business: Your money stays in our cities, counties and state where it is desperately needed. (Please note: All the titles we offer are at the same discount, not a varied number of discounts like other sources.)

Spanish, Spanish/English titles: We have the largest selection on hand in Northern California.

We hope the convenient 24/7 access to our website and facebook will encourage you to visit our sites on a regular basis.
